11. Admissions Decisions, Additional Offers, and Tuition Refunds

11.1. Admissions Decisions

- Admission decisions are made in descending order of total score within each program. Applicants who are absent from any required component (including partial absence) or who fail any required component, including document review or the major-field oral examination, will be disqualified.
- In the event of a tie, priority will be given first to the applicant with the higher score on the major field interview and then to the younger applicant.
- Applicants who provide false information in the application form or submitted documents, or who forge or alter such documents, will be disqualified regardless of their scores.
- If an admitted applicant fails to register within the designated registration period, the admission offer will be canceled.

- For international applicants, admission may be canceled if the requirements for visa issuance are not met or if visa issuance is denied

11.2. Additional Offers

- If vacancies arise because admitted applicants fail to register, additional offers of admission will be made in order of total score within each program. Applicants deemed ineligible will not be considered for additional admission offers.
- Applicants who cannot be reached by phone by GSIS at the time of notification may be excluded from consideration, even if ranked higher.
- Applicants receiving additional offers of admission must register within the designated registration period.

11.3. Tuition Refunds

- Tuition and/or the admission fee may be refunded in the following cases:
 - ▶ If a student is unable to enroll (including new admission, transfer admission, or readmission) or continue studies in accordance with applicable laws and regulations
 - ▶ If a student decides to give up their admission offer
 - ▶ If an enrolled student submits a withdrawal application and receives approval
 - ▶ If a student is unable to enroll or continue studies due to illness, death, natural disaster, or other unavoidable circumstances
- Absences or disciplinary punishments cannot be reasons to receive a tuition refund or reduction.
- If a student enrolls in fewer credit hours than is required or fails to enroll in classes, their tuition will not be refunded.
- Refund Criteria:
